WEBSTER GROVES, Mo. — Rebuilding Together – St. Louis is proud to introduce Janet Hanewinkel as its program assistant and Jesse Winters as its development associate.

Hanewinkel has been a long-term volunteer with Rebuilding Together, serving on the house selection committee, chairing the Rebuilding Day food committee and volunteering to repair homes year after year. Prior to joining the Rebuilding Together staff, Hanewinkel was president of SMS, Inc. a software consulting company. She consulted for clients such as The Trane Company, Kiss Products Inc., Anheuser-Busch and Nestle Purina Pet Care.

Winters joins Rebuilding Together after serving as a fundraising intern this past year for the St. Charles Community College Foundation in Cottleville. He's a 2007 graduate of Lindenwood University where he received his bachelor's in non-profit administration. While pursuing his undergraduate degree, Winters studied entrepreneurship and English literature for a year at the University of Aberdeen in Aberdeen, Scotland.

“We're excited to have Janet and Jesse join our staff,” said Executive Director Lynne Rajani. “Their experiences and qualifications are impressive and will help us improve the delivery of our mission of rehabilitation and repair services for low-income homeowners throughout the St. Louis Metro.”
